Splatt Plays Well For the Visitors—Homestead, Who Has Been Considered Among the Leading Contenders For the Championship, Proves Weak

Charleroi High School were victors in their first league contest on Saturday afternoon at the local ball park when they gave Homestead High school a good drubbing to the tune of 32-0. Homestead was outplayed in every department of the game. The locals piled up 17 first downs resulting in five touchdowns against three for the downriver team.

Homestead's play was a great disappointment as they were considered one of the leading contenders for the championship early in the season. Their ends played terrible football, as did the rest of the line with the exception of Splatt, the center. Charleroi backs tore through Homestead's line almost at will. Crabb was the leader of this assault and played a sterling game throughout. Captain O'Brien, Torbert and Paterline also clipped off large gains. On the other hand, Homestead could do little, though the Red and Black line which played exceptionally well during the first half. The visitors resorted to a forward passing game and was successful once. At the beginning of the second half after Charleroi had scored 20 points in the first two quarters, Homestead braced and started an offensive that resulted in two first downs, Mays doing most of the gaining.

The game started with Charleroi kicking off to Homestead. Homestead was held for three downs and forced to punt. It was a poor kick. Charleroi recovering on the 40 yd. line. A 7 yd gain through the line by Paterline and a twenty yard run by the speedy Torbert carried the ball within striking distance of the goal line. Here it was taken over by Paterline for the first score. Crabb tried for point after touchdown which was good—score 7-0. After the next kick-off a Homestead fumble was recovered and the ball carried to the 5 yd. line where Torbert took it over. Point after touchdown was missed.

The third touchdown was scored by Crabb on a criss-cross making a run of 25 yds. The same Crabb getting better every minute scored the last two touchdowns in the fourth quarter.

SENATOR WILLIS IS TO SPEAK AT DONORA SATURDAY

United States Senator Frank B. Willis, of Ohio, former governor of the Buckeye state, and a Republican leader of national prominence, will be in this county this week and on Friday evening will address a Republican mass meeting at Donora. The meeting will be held in the opera house beginning at 8 o'clock.

Senator Willis comes here under auspices of the Republican National committee to urge the election of Coolidge and Dawes and the whole Republican ticket. He will strongly urge the re-election of Congressman Henry W. Temple, pointing out the faculty of choosing a Republican President and failing to support him by not electing a congress of the same party—in sympathy with his policies.

If arrangements can be made Senator Willis will speak in Washington at noon in behalf of the ticket. This meeting, if held, will be in the ball room of the George Washington hotel, and will be open to the public.

Senator Willis is no stranger to Washington county, having spoken here and elsewhere in the county a number of times. He was for three or four years an instructor at the county teachers' institute and since becoming senator has lectured in the county a number of times. It will be remembered that he made the nominating speech for President Harding at the Republican National convention in Chicago in 1920.

F. B. NEWTON IS DEAD; A FORMER OFFICIAL HERE

Frank B. Newton, who, for a number of years was superintendent of the Hussey-Binns Shovel company, of Charleroi, and vice-president and director of the First National Bank of this place died last evening at his home in Meade street, East End, Pittsburgh. He removed to Pittsburgh with his family approximately twelve or fifteen years ago, when he severed his connection with the Hussey-Binns Shovel company that operated here at that time. Besides Mrs. Newton, his wife, there survive one son and one daughter.

Funeral services will take place Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the late residence.

BEAVER COLLEGE MAY PASS OUT OF EXISTENCE SOON

Pittsburgh, October 6.—That Beaver College, a Methodist Episcopal institution for women at Beaver, Pa., will pass out of existence within the next two months unless the present shortage of $49,000 is met.

This prediction was made by E. T. Harris, president of the college, in an address before the Pittsburgh conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in the South Avenue church, Wilkinsburg, Pa.

He pleaded that an effort be made to raise the money, pointing out that the property is worth $50,000 and that a great loss would result if it had to be sold. A committee of five, was appointed to work with the laymen's committee in cleaning up the debt.

The ministerial appointments for the ensuing year are to be handed down late this afternoon at the business session.

SEVEN KILLED IN RIOT IN CUBA

FIRM OFFERS $50 REWARD TO LOCATE RADIO MEDDLERS

For a number of months radio fans, many hundreds, have been annoyed to the point of desperation by interference in reception of radio programs. Just about the time they had their favorite station tuned in to perfection on this annoying disturbance would be turned loose and spoil the whole thing.

On the part of radio fans to locate these trouble makers has been fruitless. Different methods have been used to locate them but on to now nothing definite has been established. This morning in conversation with George W. Night of the George S. Night Sons, he said that their firm would be successful in locating the cause of the interference or in stopping it.

A Radio club was organized a couple of weeks ago and since that time continual efforts have been made by its members to get some light on the question. The most sensitive machines have been loaded in automobiles and carried to different parts of town, but the only thing learned was that at different points the noise was stronger than at other points but they have not been able to locate to definite spot from which it originates. The offer of Geo. S. Night Sons will stimulate the efforts on the part of fans to locate the trouble.

WILL TRY AND GET CONVENTION FOR PHILADELPHIA

Fifty-Seven Persons Are Wounded; Fighting Started When Police Attempt to Break Up a Meeting of Former President

MILITARY IS CALLED OUT

Clash Came As Climax to An Eventful Day For Menocal And Party Who Are Campaigning Throughout Republic on a Special Train

Havana, Cuba, Oct. 6.—Seven persons were killed and 57 wounded in fighting started when police attempted to break up a meeting of former President Menocal, who is campaigning for another term as president of the republic.

Fighting started when police attempted to break up a meeting of former President Menocal, who is campaigning for another term as president of the republic. Firing lasted two hours and order was not restored until the military had been called out.

The clash came as a climax to an eventful day for Menocal and his party, who are campaigning throughout the republic on a special train. Early Sunday the train was fired on by unknown persons between the towns of Florida and Esmeralda, and later at Central Argramonte, four coaches were derailed.

Following wrecking of their train Menocal and party proceeded in automobiles to Camaguey, where their meeting started with enthusiasm.

It was not apparent which side started first as leaders of each faction accused those of the other.

The governor of the province, it was reported, sent a message to Secretary of Interior Iturralde here declaring the Menocalistas came to Camaguey heavily armed and started the trouble by attempting to disarm the local police force.

BELIEVE WOMAN IS GUILTY OF MURDER

Pittsburgh, Oct. 6.—Mrs. Mary Karkansas was arrested and held for murder following the shooting of her husband, Michael, who died this morning from a bullet wound in the head. The woman claims he committed suicide but police claim there were no powder marks near the wound.

Literature Of Party And Why It Should Be Given Support

In the Republican headquarters can be found plenty of literature appertaining to the principles and aims of the Republican party, among which may be mentioned: "Ten Reasons Why Coolidge and Dawes Should Have Your Support;" "The Labor Record of the Republican Party and the President;" "Veterans of the World War and the Republican Party;" "Calvin Coolidge, His First Biography," et cetera. Fine steel cut engravings, splendid likenesses of the candidates, President Coolidge and Charles G. Dawes for vice president, are being circulated. It is the hope of the party that all the members of the local Republican committee, that when these are passed around among the business houses and left at the residences of people that they find conspicuous place and prominence in the windows.

The Republican campaign is opening in Charleroi with a vigor which presages success for the ticket from top to bottom. The headquarters, which have been established in the Bank of Charleroi and Trust Company building, are being visited daily by both ladies and gentlemen, each and all of whom are proffering their aid for the success of the G. O. P. Postmaster Hill this morning assured us that the prospects augur well for a big vote next month—it is thought nearly if not quite the constituent strength in Charleroi and surrounding places. It is the purport of the leaders of the party here to have stump speakers here in the very near future—orators who are posted in the affairs of today, who will be able to show that adherence to the principles of the party of Lincoln is the only safeguard, and will agree when they hear the speakers that with the most emancipator they will know it is not safe to "swap horses while crossing the stream," and retain President Coolidge as the head of the nation.

The sentiment here seems to be strong for the Republican ticket, from the least to the greatest of the candidates, and that people are not to be swayed by the sophistry of any of the isms which threaten to break the fabric of a present prosperous nation.

THREE KANSAS CANDIDATES.

There is a three-cornered fight in Kansas also, William Allen White, the debater, having entered the race for Governor on an anti-Ku Klux platform. Governor Davis, who seeks re-election by the Democrats, is also anti-Ku Klux and his party in convention has denounced the Klan by name, but presumably Editor White, too good a Republican to vote the Democratic ticket, and he needs himself unable to vote the Republican ticket because, as he says, "Ben" Paul, the regular Republican candidate, is "practically allied the Republican." So Mr. White decided to save Kansas from both the Ku Klux and the Democrats by running for Governor himself. Obviously this is a rather curious solution of the problem, or ordinarily to divide the Republican vote is merely to render Democratic victory an easy matter. But the conditions are unusual and Mr. White hopes to divide the Democratic vote as well.

A lively contest is on and Kansas journalism is furnishing amusing reading these days. Mr. White seems to think he has just begun to fight according to the Great Bend Times (Rep.) he is already on his last legs. That newspaper picturesquely serves: "Probably the funniest man in Kansas is W. A. White. He has been given the stage temporarily and William is doing his stuff—we'll say so! And it is a pity, too, for one at gets wheezy from too much exertion. Still, a fearful dread haunts every one that craves and courts the spotlight—that awful realization that a hook is coming. William's predicament is pathetic. He doesn't dare stop his juggling around for fear that he may fall from the picture, and he doesn't know what minute he will get a hook. That's the rub. And the heezing grows faster and more audible. Bill's act is about over."

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

New York Won The First Game, Washington Second

Washington's first taste of world series dessert Saturday afternoon was not as tasty as the invitations indicated. The most colorful assemblage of fans that ever gazed upon the autumn baseball classic saw the Senators fall under the drive of the tattered and torn Giants. The first clash was a seething fight for 12 innings, the score being 4 to 3.

The sidights ran the actual diamond struggle to a close second for undivided interest. The presence of President and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge together with other members of the Cabinet the impressive military touch given the afternoon by the snappy soldiers and crack bands of the service, the honors heaped upon Walter Johnson, revered in the minds of all baseball fans these were only a part of the interesting angles of the battle.

A great pitching duel throughout between Johnson and Artie Nehf made the game in itself an ordinary affair until the desperate contenders went into the extra innings. Over the regulation periods, Nehf and Johnson were magnificent in their slab work, yet the whole scene was not one to rave about for the obvious reasons that the skillful hurling precluded the usual opportunity for brilliant fielding plays.

Roger Peckinpaugh yesterday capped the climax to a tense southpaw's battle by driving a most opportune two-base hit into left field when only one was out in the last of the ninth. Joe Judge scampering home from second with the run which broke a brief evening deadlock and defeated the Giants by the close count of 4 to 3. This ended up the world series, each of the contending flag winners having won a game.

Big Jack Bentley was chosen by Manager John McGraw and although he remained in the box to the finish, Jezebel Tecumseh Zachary opposed Bentley until his left whip commenced to show evidence of fatigue in the ninth. He had allowed two singles after issuing a free ride, and as the Giants thus succeeded in placing the contest at a 3-3 standstill, Fred Maiberry was dragged into the melee. The right-handed relief hurler was faced by only one batsman, Jackson, who fanned, and the Giants were retired.

Bentley's bewildering windup and his fast ball proved very effective after three hits had been bunched off him in the first inning. These blows included a single by Sam Rice followed by a homer from the bludgeon of Goose Goslin. Stan Harris also smote for the circuit in the fifth, both these diamond-girdling drives coming with two down.

The Giants had been at Zachary's mercy until the seventh when they got their first marker and then in the ninth they tied it up and drove the Washington southpaw to the showers. They had made just six safeties, all off Zachary, but the victorious brace came after Maiberry's entry and he was credited with the triumph although he was not upon the hill more than half a minute.

The score by innings:
New York.....0 0 0 0 0 1 0 2-3
Washington...2 0 0 1 0 0 1-4
Earned runs—New York 3, Washington 4.
Two base hit—Peckinpaugh.
Home runs—Harris, Goslin.
Stolen base—Rice.
Hits—Off Zachary, 6 hits and 3 runs; Off Maiberry, 1 hit and 1 run.

"McKechnie's record is good enough for me," Dreyfus said. "The club has been in the race every year he had had it, and although he has been unfortunate enough not to win a championship, McKechnie has shown that he is worthy of retention."

While the new manager is not under new terms under which McKechnie is to be paid as a consultant as a private boss, it is understood that they are acceptable to him and he signed without argument or delay.

OLD SOL TRYING TO FAVOR THE WORLD'S SERIES

New York, Oct. 6.—The sun was making a brave effort to clear up the weather for the third game of the 1924 world series here today and up to 8 a. m. was waging an even battle with clouds and haze that floated over the city.

The official forecast for the day was "generally cloudy." There was little indication of rain, however, and fans believed the sun would burn away the mists during the morning.

French Butter Markets
During the months of June, July and August the butter markets of Normandy are an interesting sight to the visitors. The peasants assemble in the market squares of the various towns, almost in military formation, with their baskets filled with large pads of butter each done up in the whitest of cloths. The buyers walk along the lines and bargain for the wares, tasting samples before deciding. If the prospective buyer is satisfied with the flavor of one morsel he knows he may rely on the rest of it being equally good for the French law regarding the adulteration of food is very strict, and a fraudulent seller is severely dealt with.

Poor Henry!
A Baltimore man, who was formerly a resident of a town on the eastern shore, recently revisited his old home town after an absence of many years. One day he was talking with an old friend about various people he formerly knew.
"What became of the Hall family?" he inquired.
"Oh," said the latter, "Tom Hall did very well. Got to be an actor out on the Pacific coast. Bill, the other brother, is something of an artist in New York and Lucy, the sister, is doing literary work. But Henry never amounted to much. It took all he could lay his hands on to support the others."

Let toned sunlight
color scheme

NO one with any decorative sense tolerates glaring electric lamps in a room. You cover these lamps with exquisite soft-hued materials, and as if by magic even the most modest room seems drenched with an atmosphere of opulence. Sunlight should be treated in exactly the same fashion.

This can be done by using window shades in the beautiful new tone-colors. These colors tone the sunlight, throwing a glamour over the furnishings and weaving everything in the room into a pleasing symphony of color.

LESSON NO. 1 THE PROPER USE OF LIGHT

Have you ever gone into a room at night, and felt that there was too much light in the room? Perhaps it was because you came in out of the dark, and your eyes were dazzled by the light. If this feeling of dazzle persisted, there was surely something wrong with the lights.

It was not too much light, however. For in that room there was certainly not more than one-hundredth part of the light that we find during a clear day on the shady side of a tree or building. Nor one-five hundredth part of what we are accustomed to find in the bright sunlight. Surely, then, the trouble in that room was not too much light!

be quite disagreeable and might not be very good for our eyes.

In order to protect our eyes, a lamp bulb should be shaded in such a way that we cannot see the lighted filament or wire inside the bulb and so that we do not even see a very bright spot in the shade directly in front of this lighted filament. When lights are shaded in this way, it is hardly possible to get too much light for comfortable vision. Sometimes the use of frosted bulbs will help to remove annoying glare.

Whenever you hear someone say that there is too much light in a room, it is safe to say the real trouble is not too much light, but rather that there is too much glare.

1 to 5 Units of Light

50 to 100 Units of Light

500 Units of Light

5,000 Units of Light

GLARE

The trouble in the room was too much glare—too much dazzle. Any very bright light which shines directly into the eyes produces glare and eyestrain. This becomes more and more unpleasant as the light stands out with greater contrast to the darkness of the background.

Lights for use in the home have improved quite rapidly during the last two or three generations and as soon as a better light was invented, we just put the new one in place of the older one. First the candle was replaced by the oil lamp, and this in turn by the gas light. When the modern electric light bulbs or incandescent lamps were invented and used in homes instead of gas, they gave more light and were much brighter than anything we had before.

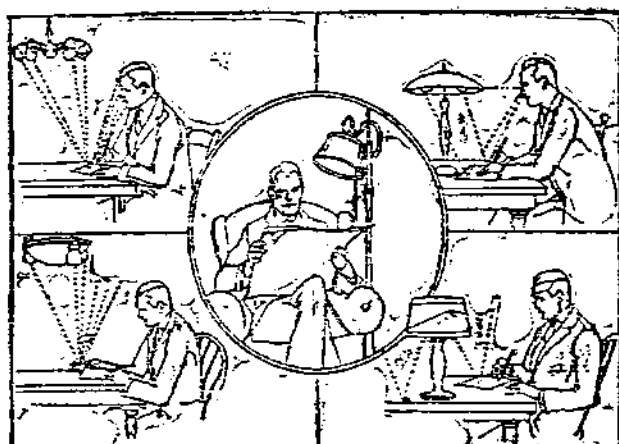

A bright light burning outdoors in the day might not even be noticed, and it would not cause glare because there would not be enough difference between the brightness of the light and the brightness of the daylight. However, at night this same light would and glare and that the lights are not properly shaded.

ANOTHER KIND OF GLARE

How tired our eyes become after a day on the water, or when the sun shines brightly on the snow covered ground. Do you remember the mischievous boy in the classroom who caught a beam of sunlight in a mirror and reflected it into your eyes? It made you start. These things are particularly annoying because our eyebrows give us no protection from this indirect or reflected light which comes in from below the level of the eyes.

This kind of glare must also be guarded against if we are reading or writing on glossy paper. The light should come over the shoulder, or be directed to the page at such an angle that a beam of light from the lighted filament of a lamp bulb cannot be reflected up into our eyes. Lamps placed in front of a mirror and shaded by shades should not be placed in such a position that the mirror will reflect the image of the lighted filament of the lamp bulb back into our eyes and cause this kind of glare.

WOMAN STABBED ABOUT BODY

Mary Roberts, aged about 40 years, of Sycamore street, Washington is in the Washington hospital in a serious condition as the result of knife wounds inflicted yesterday afternoon in an affray which ended in a field near her home, by Mike Papp, aged 44 years.

Papp had gone to her home and got into a quarrel with her. When the quarrel became more heated she called in friends to help her. When the neighbors made their appearance, however, Papp made his getaway into a nearby field where he was followed by the woman and her friends. He was thrown by them. She held him and becoming desperate he drew a penknife and cut her on the hand and arm and about the right shoulder.

Papp was arrested by Officers Striebling and Powers and lodged in the county jail. The woman's condition was reported as serious at the hospital last night, although the full extent of her injuries have not yet been determined.

Slow London Traffic

Street traffic in London is said to be the slowest in the world, with an average speed of from four to five miles an hour. When congestion is most acute, traffic moves at the rate of only three miles an hour.

Early Swimming Tank

The earliest known English public swimming pool was advertised in London May 28, 1742, to be open and that "waiters attend daily to teach or assist gentlemen in the said swimming bath, if required."

THE CHURCH SCHOOL RALLY ACCREDITED A GREAT SUCCESS

The Church School Rally of the Episcopal churches of Charleroi, Monessen, Monongahela and Clairton, held yesterday afternoon at St. Paul's church, Monongahela, was a great success and was enjoyed by more than three hundred children, their teachers, parents and friends.

A procession consisting of the church school pupils, officers and an augmented choir of the various churches, marched into the edifice at the beginning of the interesting service. Rev. F. C. Lauderburn's address was highly interesting as well as that of Miss Margaret Montero's who recently returned from China where she was an active missionary. Miss Charlotte Forsythe, executive secretary of Religious Education in the Pittsburgh diocese, highly complimented the parishes on their rousing spirit. The four pastors presided at the service which was supplemented by special music. A large representation was present from Charleroi.

Good for Tender Feet

From London comes the report of a new invention that promises to add more than a mile to the comfort of humanity. It is a pedoscope Roentgen apparatus that shows the exact position of the bones and muscles of the foot when trying on new shoes. It is asserted that this device facilitates not only a perfect fit, but also the correction of foot deformities by suitable footwear.—The Living Age.

The Rose in History

The rosary of religious services is named for the rose, crushed roses, according to chroniclers, having been strung before the advent of beads. And we are told that the expression, "sub rosa" came about because the Romans used to paint a large rose on the ceiling of their banquet halls as a reminder to those present that what occurred was not to be repeated.

Not Much Change

"Some people say boys are different nowadays," said the old gentleman, "but I say no. They still risk their necks, and destroy private property, climbing as high as they can in any building under construction and carrying their initials in the wood. What do I mean, they haven't changed much? Well, I did the same thing when I was a kid."

First Gas Stove

The first gas stove on record was used in 1876 by a baking powder company to demonstrate cake baking at the Philadelphia Centennial exhibition. At that time the gasoline stove was in general use, and until the end of the century the gas stove made no great headway.

PARENTS HAPPY ON RETURN OF KIDNAPED BABE

Camden, N. J., December 18.—The happiest parents in the world today are Mr. and Mrs. Russell E. Steimling, of Girard Manor, near Mahanoy City, Pa., for their two-year-old son who was kidnaped last June has been found.

The baby was found in a room and a woman who rented a room Monday night and then disappeared. A description of the child aroused the attention of the Steimlings. They visited police headquarters and identified Russell, Jr.

Today the greatest Christmas present possible was given the couple. A court order restoring Russell, Jr., to his parents was issued and after a period of six months the baby once more nestled in his mother's arms.
